

It's a fact:

If you have respect for yourself, showing respect to others comes naturally.

To be one, to be united is a great thing. But to respect the right to be different is maybe even greater. Bono

Luke 6:31 and as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them.

Respect yourself if you would have others respect you. Baltasar Gracian

Matthew 7:12 "So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets."

One of the most sincere forms of respect is actually listening to what another has to say. Bryant H. McGill

Archbishop Dr Rowan Williams describes a school's Christian Values as
'What is distinctive about a Christian based school. Something to do with ethos atmosphere and the way in which people feel valued.'

At Kibworth these values are integral to all our daily lives, how we teach and what our children learn. Our school is a place where:

- * Children and adults alike are engaged on a life-time's journey
- * Each person is uniquely valued and their gifts and potential are nurtured and developed
- * Each member of the school knows he or she belongs to all the other members and accepts the responsibility of caring for one another and for God's world.

Our aim is to provide a safe environment in which a child is valued and in which a child can find security, acceptance, reassurance and an opportunity to develop their potential. We aim to create a caring and happy community in which Christian values are upheld.

*We teach religion all day long
We teach it in arithmetic by accuracy
We teach it in language by learning to say what we mean—yea, yea or nay, nay
We teach it in history by humanity
We teach it in geography by breadth of mind
We teach it in handicraft by thoroughness
We teach it in astronomy by reverence
We teach it by good manners to one another, and by truthfulness in all things.
We teach pupils to build Christianity out of the actual relationships in which they stand to their teachers and their school fellows.*

Team Hoyt is an inspirational story about a father and son who compete together in marathons and other sporting events. Rick is physically disabled but is a keen athlete. From a young age Rick always wanted to take part in marathons but due to his disability wasn't able to run himself. Out of respect and love Rick's father has pushed him, in his chair, thousands of miles whilst taking part in lots of different marathons. They work together as a team to achieve their goals.

What are we doing in school to learn about Respect?

Each class is thinking about the different ways we can show respect for ourselves, others and our environment. On the Playground We are thinking about treating each other, the equipment and environment with respect. We also show respect when we learn about and take part in 'Remembrance Day.' A day to celebrate and remember those who have died in war all over the world

Respect at home

- Listen when others are speaking and try not to talk over them.
- Treat your family members like you would want to be treated.
- Use kind words especially around younger brothers or sisters
- Appreciate one thing you are good at.
- Hold the door open for adults in your family.
- Treating people in a kind and gentle way. A respectful person understands that as humans we are all equal.
